- Alice -

Wishing you the Best of Luck in your High School career here at D.C.S. It's a pretty great school - in fact I've grown rather attached to it.
I've really enjoyed having you in my first physical education class. You really gave me a real boost during the two years I spent teaching physical education. It's great to be able to see you able to do the things you you decide to do. The physical education field is a great education. I hope you would be great at it and would enjoy it as much as I do. Believe me it's great.
Luck in whatever you do.
Keep smiling Always.

STUDY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

In Memoriam

"The President is dead!" Our hearts stopped. A weight of tragedy bowed us down.

Our flag was lowered to half mast and in that position, "Old Glory," whipping gently in the breeze, seemed to symbolize the bowed heads of a sorrowful nation.

The trees were bare, and the long white rows of gravestones cast long shadows. The jet planes droned overhead, and across a hill taps sounded for a man who had died for his country--Our President.

Just as John F. Kennedy "accepted the torch" of responsibility for his generation, we know that one day that torch will be passed on to us.

November 22, 1963, marks a day in our lives that we will always remember.

SENIORS

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS"

Academic

The classrooms are the most important parts of our school. In them students learn to study and express their own ideas and opinions. A variety of courses offers wide opportunities for education and provides a well-rounded background for the future.

The students are handed the key that unlocks the doors to truth, education and success.

DAY BY DAY . . .

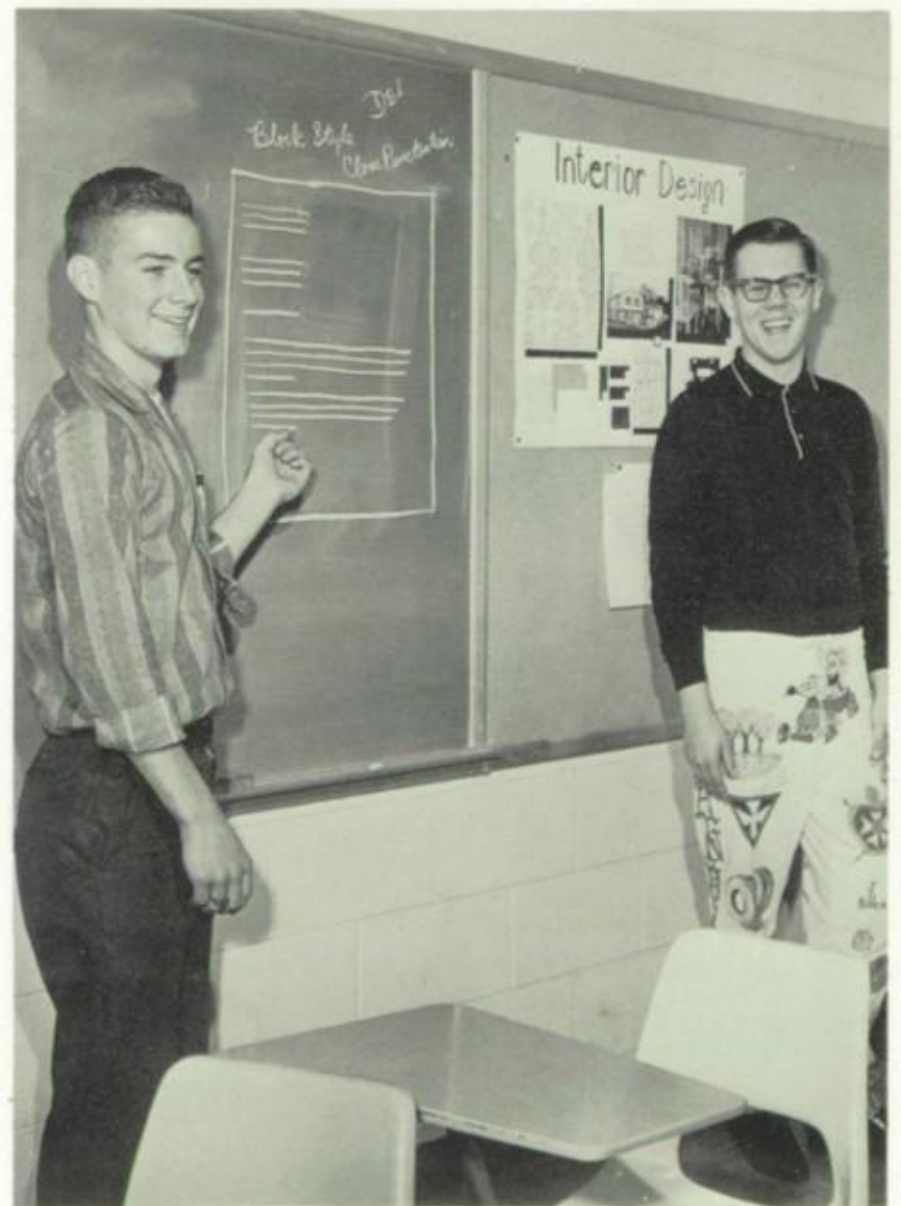

The Art of Communication

The Advanced Speech Class prepares for their first play "Don't Go Ape."

Language Arts make people more aware of their usage of good English. In our business and social contacts we will be judged by our spoken English. Literature increases our vocabulary and helps us understand what we read. Speech develops our attitudes and poise.

Douglas Ledgerwood points out the parts of a business letter, while Mike Arnold waits to discuss his ambition, Interior Design.

Miss Susan Page's Junior English class seems to know the answers about Huckleberry Finn.

Students Study World Problems

Governments of the world furnishes students with a better knowledge of governments throughout the world.

Eighth grade students review their lesson for Mr. Leedy's test.

Current events, oral and written reports are a part of the social science program.

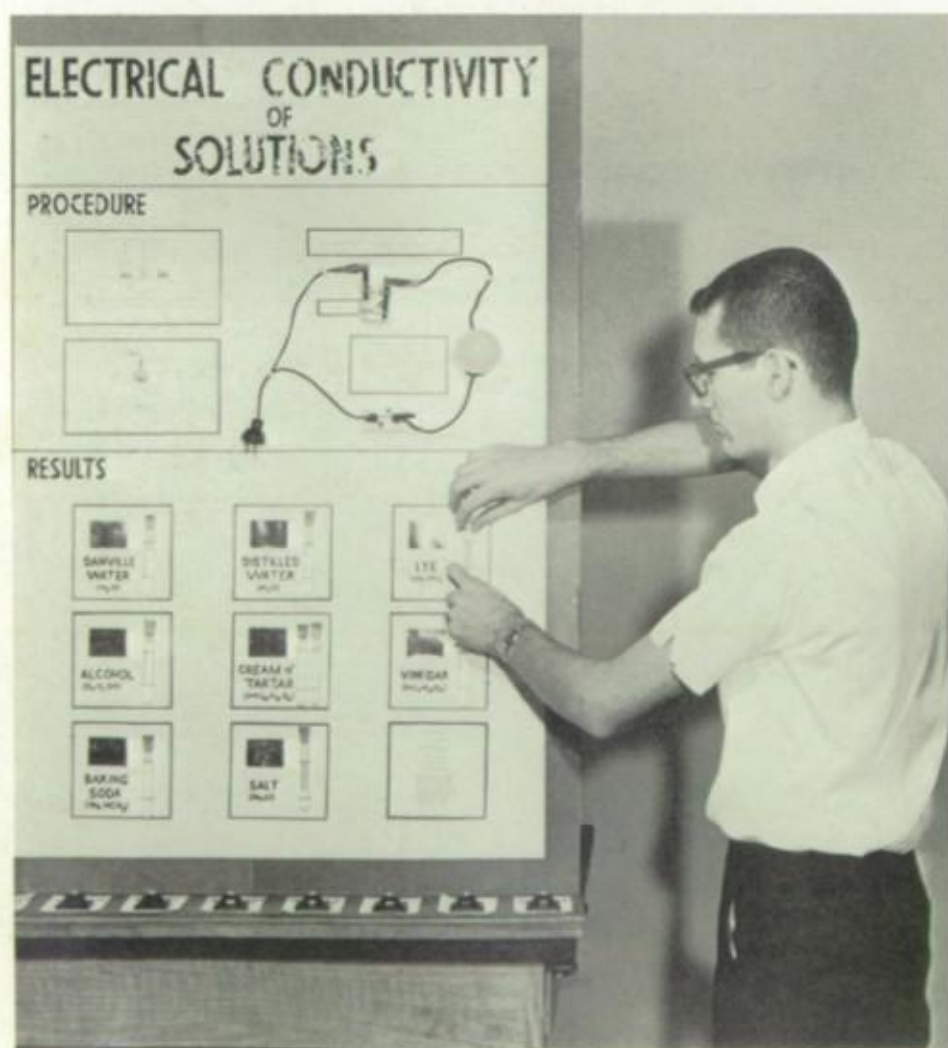

U.S. and World history create an appreciation of American civilization through a comparison of the past to the present.

Social and political foundations and the financing of American government are studied in the citizenship and government classes.

Math and Science Interest Grows

The freshman biology class prepare for their semester exam.

Wilbur Tague won first place in the local science fair with a poster showing the Electrical Conductivity of Solutions.

As the emphasis on the space age grows, yesterday's science fiction becomes today's projects and tomorrow's reality. DHS prepares it's students for the future through a variety of scientific studies.

The study of science is one of the most complicated and interest-arousing series of courses offered at DHS. Four years of science are offered to students in the areas of biology, physical science, chemistry, and physics. These courses put the solutions for the problems of the modern world closer to the present.

in Midst of Atomic and Space Age

Advanced algebra trains students to reason intelligently for future occupations.

In today's complex world of facts and figures, a study of mathematics is extremely important. Algebra, geometry, and trigonometry are disciplines to straight thinking and intelligent reasoning as pupils prepare, not only for a college education, but for all phases of American living.

Anticipating the need for a strong mathematic background in the fast moving space age, students prepare themselves for a successful future by studying the courses offered at D.H.S. Our math teachers stimulate interest and guide the students through courses in algebra, geometry and trigonometry.

Susan Joseph explains the solution of a trigonometry problem.

Languages Provide Understanding

El examen es muy difícil.

The translation of Caesar's letters helps the Latin class get a deeper meaning of the language.

As our world grows smaller due to advanced transportation, foreign language provides the vital link in the understanding between the peoples of the world.

"LATIN LIVES AGAIN" . . . Although the Latin language is not spoken today, the study of word derivations and vocabulary helps the student to grasp the structure of English and other Romance languages.

Spanish is a popular course in which students learn about the culture as well as the language of Spanish speaking countries.

The study of foreign language enables the students to obtain a better knowledge of foreign culture, thus creating each individual's opportunity to aid in the long, hard road to world peace.

Art Students Show Creative Ability

The art classes under the supervision of Mrs. Joan Kisner, provided opportunity for pupils to develop their art interest and skill.

The field of art is a challenging one, which may open many doors to success. Metal enameling, model homes and mosaics were interesting projects during the year. The metal enameling projects were planned near the Christmas holidays so the students could make them for gifts.

During the year certain projects were planned to coincide with basic art theory. Model homes were built to teach design, furniture arrangement and color schemes. Each pupil was required to keep a semester notebook on an artist.

Seniors Steve Haas and Mike Arnold work on metal enameled projects.

Mrs. Kisner helps Mike Stewart, Jim Ewing and Bob Decker on a still life.

Shop and Home Ec Teach Skills

Metal working, printing, mechanical drawing, and woodworking are offered to the boys of grades 8 through 12 under the direction of Mr. David Jones and Mr. James Morris.

"I think the plaids will match," says Vyanne McCord hopefully.

Students gain practical experience in classroom dinners.

Students discover the fun of sewing as Miss Selsor, Mrs. Pierson and Mrs. Helbig help prepare them in the art of homemaking.

We know the muffins will be delicious and so are the many other dishes the students are learning to cook. Lucky are the guys that get these girls.

Business Education Opens Many Doors

Miss Patricia Selsor taught Shorthand I and II and took the advanced group on a field trip to Indiana Business College.

Typewriting I, II and Journalism, which provides practical training for secretaries and college "prep" students, was taught by Mrs. Vivian Gilham.

Business education is becoming a growing field in today's everchanging world. The DHS business department provides a good background in the commercial field.

In addition to general business, which offers background training to underclassmen, Mrs. Fern Mc-Elwain also taught Bookkeeping I, giving basic bookkeeping fundamentals to the upperclassmen.

To complete the commerce curriculum Mrs. Esther Porter taught advanced bookkeeping and Mrs. Doris Andrews taught basic business arithmetic.

Trampoline Puts Bounce into Gym Life

A new trampoline in the physical education department added variety and enthusiasm to the popular program.

The eighth grade girls try to keep trim and neat figures by doing various exercises.

Strong bodies and coordination along with good sportsmanship are the goals of the physical education department.

All students are required to take health and safety, and two years of gym.

Mrs. Louise Dollens and Mr. Robert Etienne help students in the physical fitness program.

Lives Enriched by Music

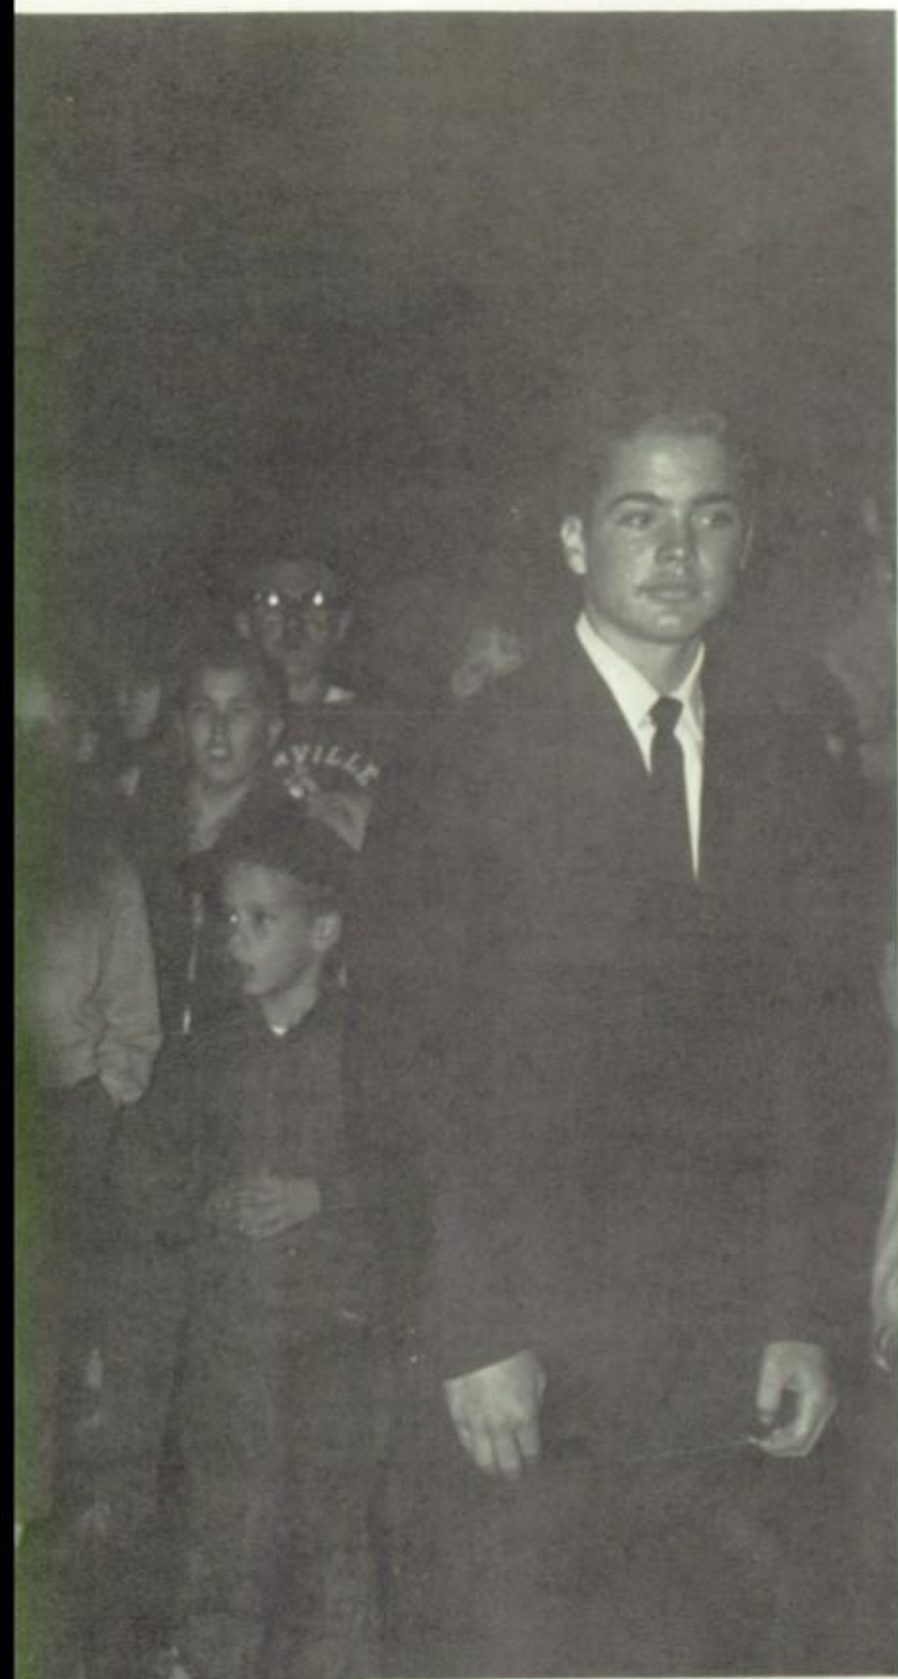

The eighth grade chorus had the opportunity of combining with the glee club to present a winter concert.

The high school band spent many hours preparing for the events of the year. Among these events were a tour to Madison and the Senior Concert. The concert featured a Mardi-Gras setting.

Activities

The students at DHS are challenged by the involvement of class projects, as well as club projects, but school also stands for the jokes that permeate the halls, and the giggles and fads. It is the dances, the voting for kings or queens, the rushing down the stairs, and the crush at the lockers near Hargrave Hall.

All these and many more fun-filled moments have made dreams become reality.

DAY BY DAY . . .

Heidi Acquaints DHS with German Life

Heidi Otto, our foreign exchange student from Salzgitter-Bad, Germany, made us well acquainted with the German way of life and customs during the year.

While staying with the Fabian Underhills, Heidi was the hostess of a pitch-in-supper---her first U.S. party.

Central Park, Broadway, the Empire State Building, and Radio City Music Hall were a few of the places that impressed her when she visited New York.

Even though Heidi was enrolled in the 12th grade at Danville High School, she will still have two more years of school in Germany. After graduation, Heidi would like to study foreign languages and history which would help prepare her as a guide for tours within continental Europe.

Heidi showed slides and presented interesting comments about Germany to the eighth grade in a convocation.

Heidi shows Ann Underhill her ideas for her next speech.

Heida points out to her history classmates the location of her native country.

'An Evening in Tara'

Decorated as an old southern mansion, the Washington Street Gymnasium was the scene of the 30th annual May Prom, "An Evening in Tara." The music that drifted toward the star-filled sky was provided by Jay Dickens and the Accents.

The crowning of May Queen, Becky Poynter, by Robin Hood, Terry Chandler, was the highlight of the evening. Soft spring colors decorated the gymnasium and vases of lilacs and tulips graced the tables.

Freshmen Begin Triumphant Climb

Steve Carter, senior, welcomes Susie Brock, freshman.

Becky Joyce and Steve Haas gaze at the stairway to the stars.

Senior president, Jim Dever extends a cordial welcome to Jerry Bair, freshman president.

The freshmen began their climb up "The Stairway to the Stars," at the annual Freshman Reception. This year's formal introduction was held on an October evening in the Washington Street Gymnasium.

Senior class president, Jim Dever, welcomed the freshmen as official members of the high school. Jerry Bair, freshman class president, thanked the seniors for the fine reception.

The Jay Dixon Combo provided lovely music as couples danced in the gym, gaily decorated in the senior class colors of mint and forest green.

Seniors and freshmen enjoy the first dance to music provided by the Jay Dixon Combo.

'Winter Wonderland'

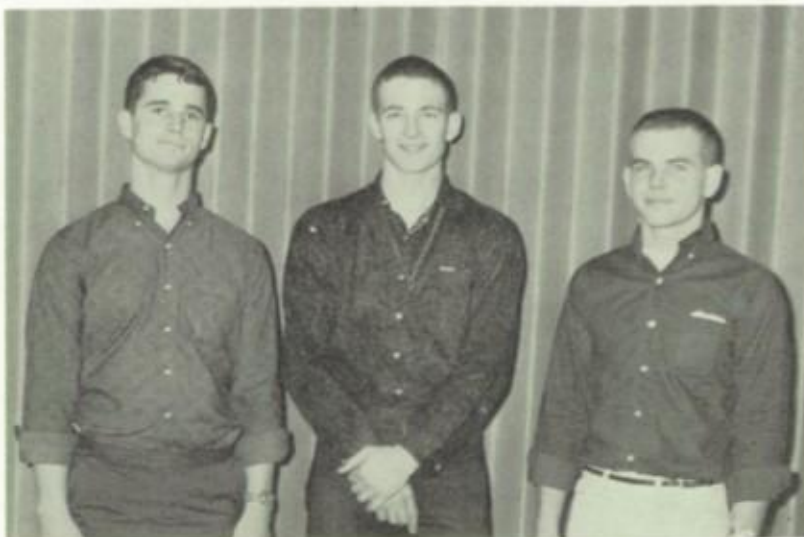

"Winter Wonderland" was the theme of the annual Tri-Hi-Y Christmas dance.

Silver snowflakes and a gaily decorated Christmas tree added additional holiday cheer.

The coronation of Vyanne McCord and the introduction of her court, Diane Dinsmore, Marty Martin and Sally Sutherlin was the highlight of the evening.

'Cupid's Magic'

To accent the theme, "Cupid's Magic," at the Sweetheart Dance, candles and glittering hearts were placed on the tables. The atmosphere of the dance floor was set by red and pink cupids scattered about the grid room. The dance is sponsored annually by the F.H.A.

Doug Myers, Don Ritchey, and Dave Myers were the other candidates for Sweetheart King.

Jim Devers is crowned "King of All Young Hearts" by Karen Hook, F.H.A. President.

Royalty Reigns at Annual

Homecoming Queen candidates were Connie Wright, freshman; Sharon Mitchell, sophomore; Carol Stockrahm, junior; and Carla Honaker, senior.

Here come the bands! Homecoming festivities began with a parade down main street and then to the gridiron.

During half-time ceremonies each queen candidate was escorted to the football field, where Sharon Mitchell, sophomore, was crowned Homecoming Queen by Dave Myers. The royal party was entertained by the junior and senior high bands during the celebration. The homecoming game ended with the Spark-plugs defeating the Warriors 12-7.

The dance in the grid room was the finale for the regal celebration.

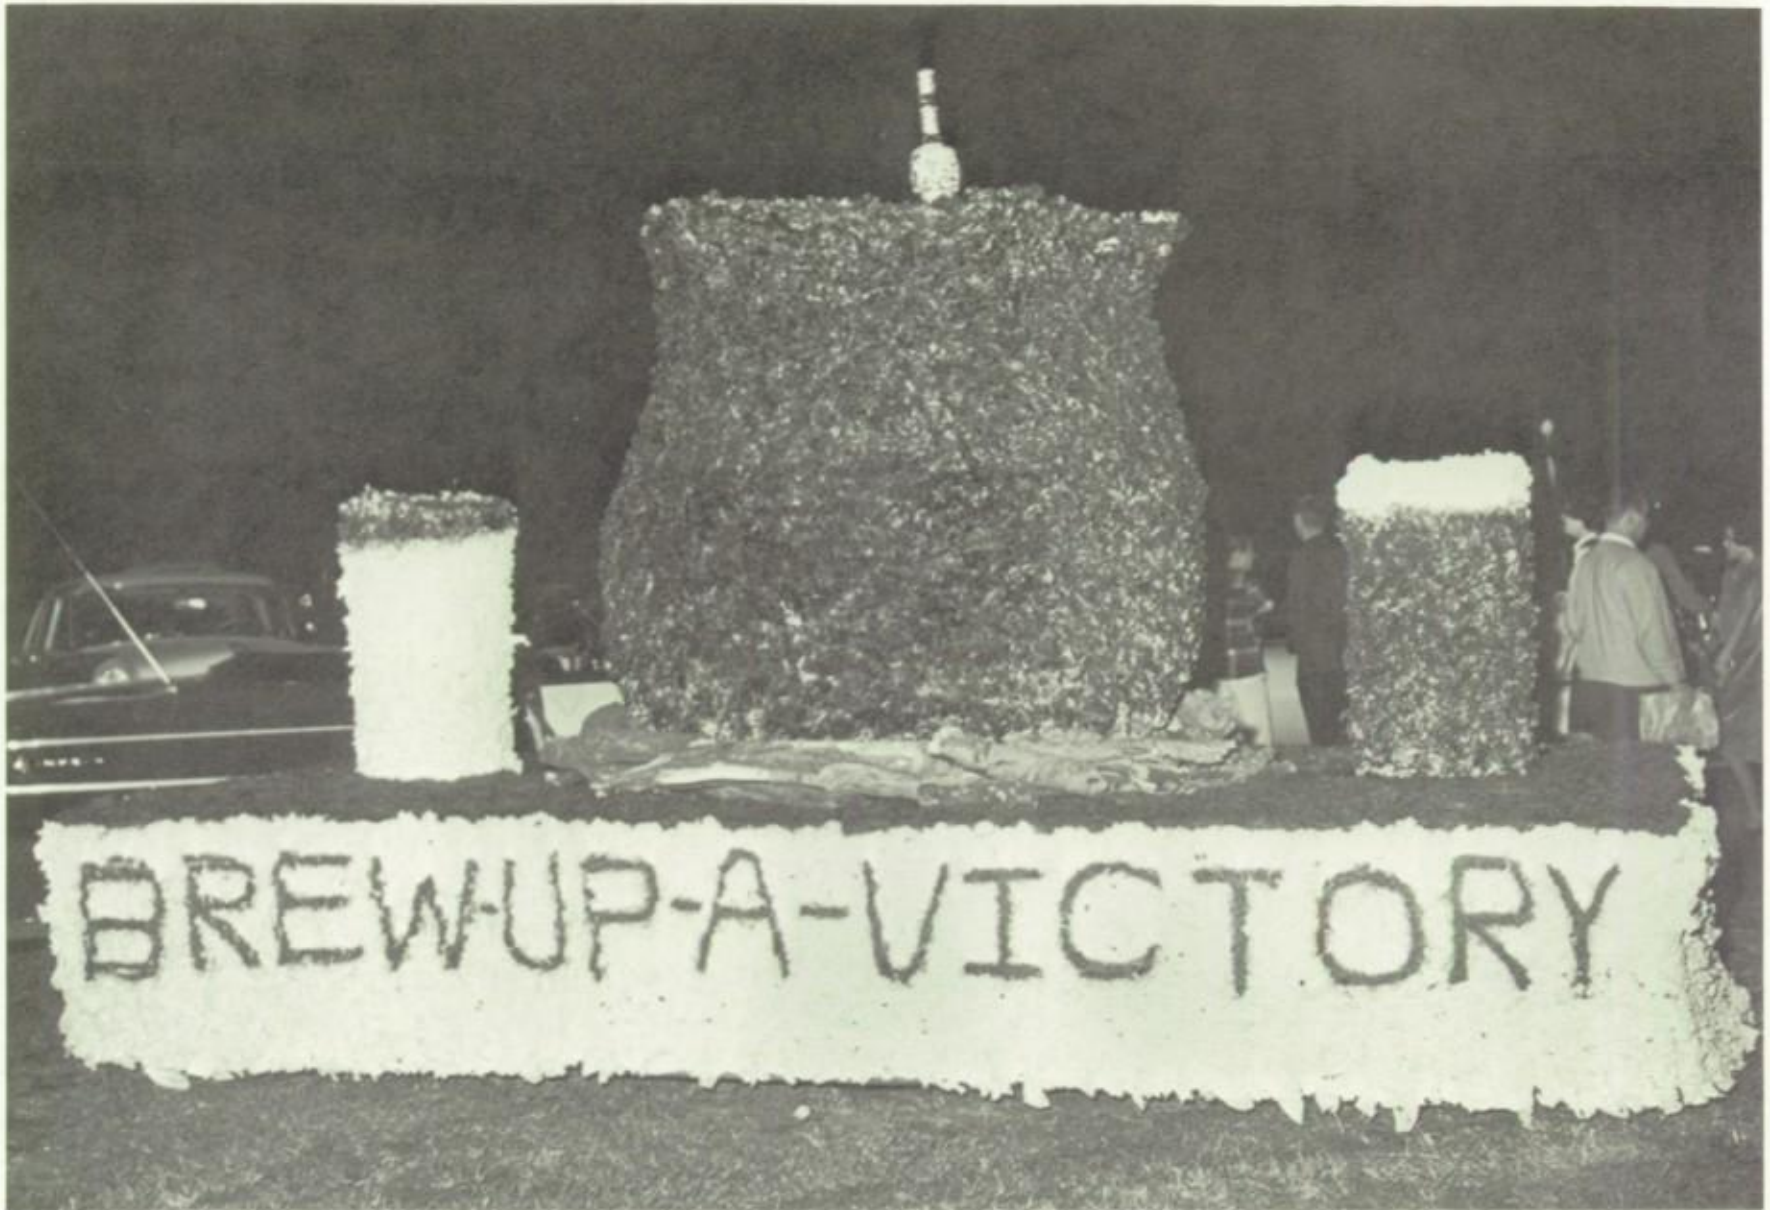

"Her Majesty" the queen.

"Ring Up A Victory" was the theme of the senior float.

Homecoming Ceremonies

The freshman float, "Brew Up A Victory", captured the eyes of the judges and took first place in the float contest.

The junior float, "Short Those Plugs" took second place.

"Bury 'Em" was the feeling expressed by the sophomores with their float.

Students Win Honors

Dave Myers, senior, received an appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. This is the first time in DHS history that anyone has received this honor. Taking a series of tests, Dave met general eligibility requirements, obtained a senatorial nomination, and qualified scholastically and physically.

Being the representative in the county Daughters of American Revolution Contest, Susan Joseph was selected by the faculty as the Danville High School DAR Good Citizen on the basis of character, citizenship, leadership, scholarship, and service. The test emphasized government on federal, state, and local levels.

For maintaining the highest scholastic average in English in her sophomore year, Ann Underhill received a year's subscription to the Reader's Digest magazine.

Pam Hicks received a certificate and a pin for scoring the highest on a Betty Crocker Achievement Test. Its purpose is to encourage Home Ec and community participation.

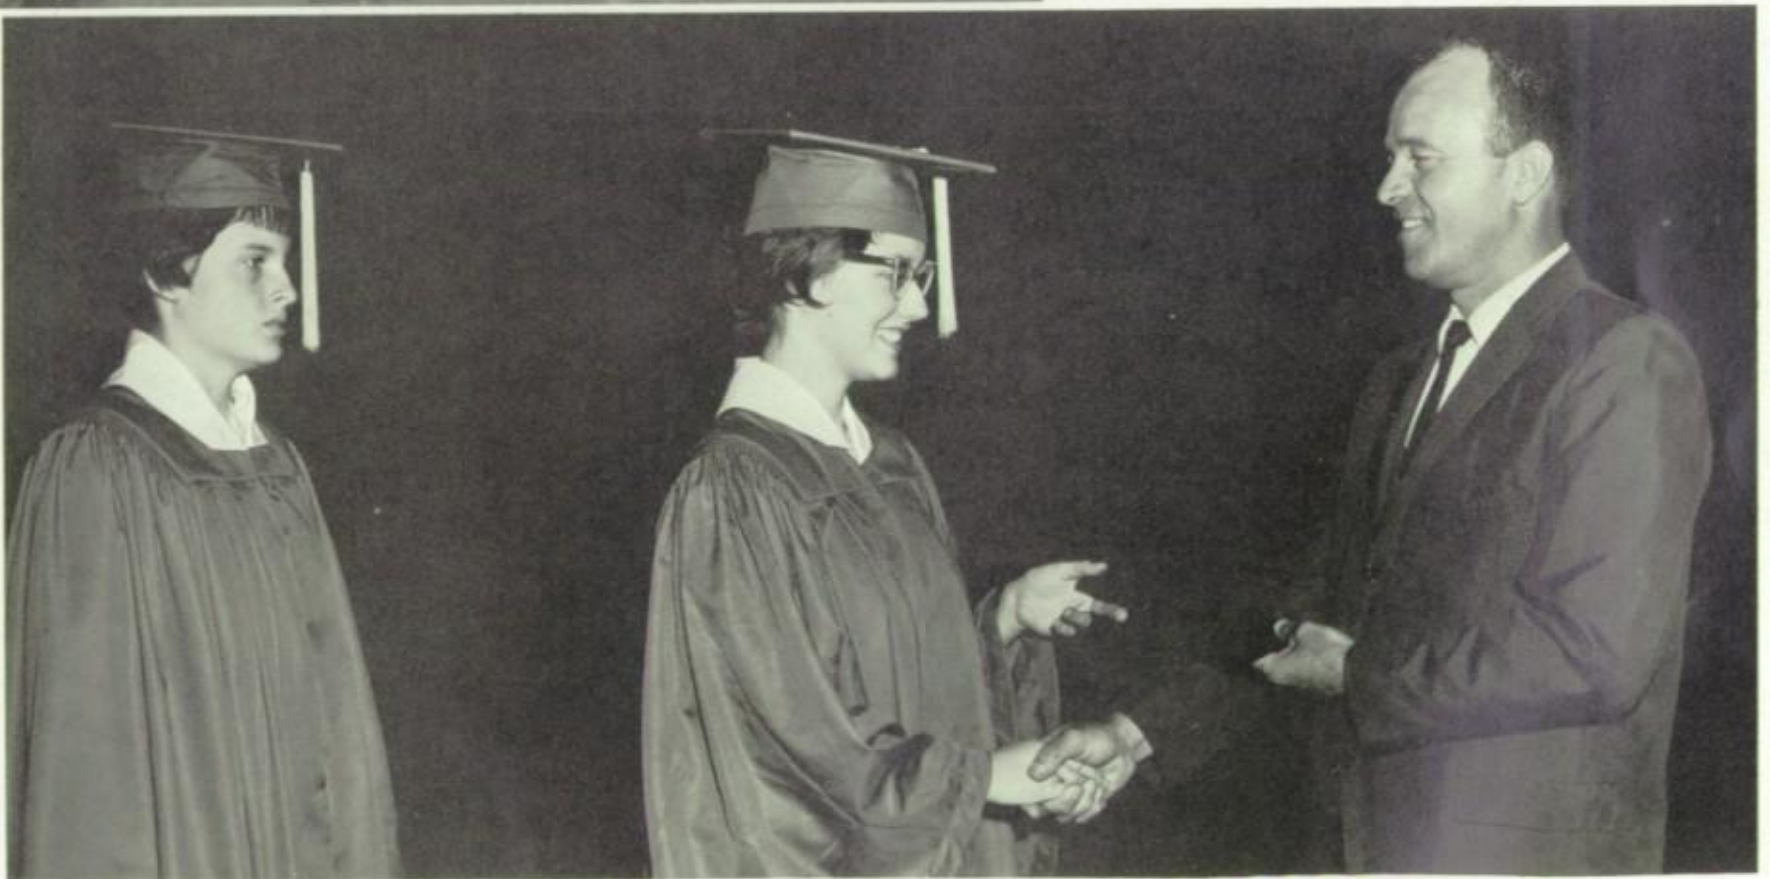

Seniors Receive Diplomas

Ron Harbin, an outstanding DHS student, received his diploma with congratulations.

Dave Myers, Tom Clark, Diane Eggleston, former DHS Senior, and Mike Barber practice marching for the Commencement Exercises.

Marcia Bell and Marcia Carter realized that they were taking the last step as DHS students--into a new way of life.

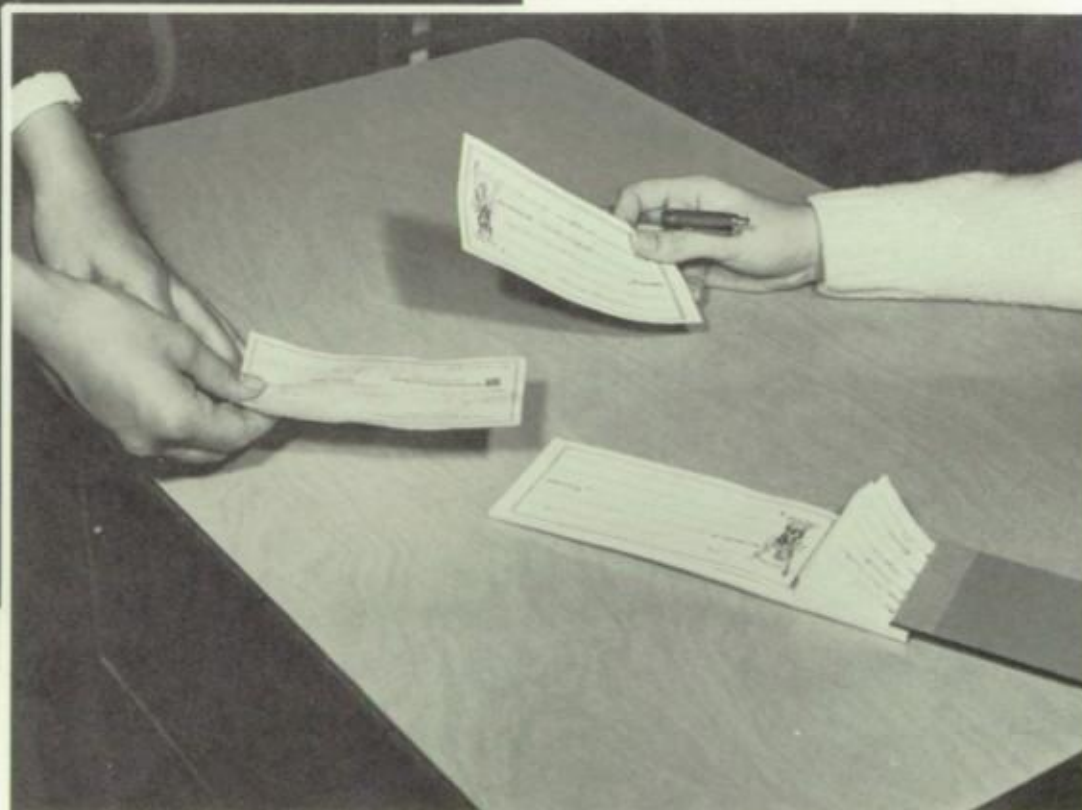

Organizations

Extracurricular activities are an integral part of our school life. It is through these activities that we make friends and establish better relationships with our teachers. We also learn to accept responsibility by serving as officers, planning programs and working on service projects.

Our clubs aid us in becoming leaders and better individuals,

"The meeting will now come to order. Is there any new business?" This was a familiar question to 26 members of the DHS Student Council as they carried on their Tuesday evening meetings.

The council was formed to help better the school, community and the members themselves.

During the year, homecoming activities, the exchange student program and the May Prom were the main projects sponsored by the Council.

Honoring the faculty, the Student Council sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day in a surprise convocation. Cookies and coffee were later served by Council Members.

The objective of the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y is to promote, establish, and maintain high standards of Christian ideals throughout the home, school, and community.

The two organizations joined with the Robed Choir in presenting the annual Thanksgiving program. The Tri-Hi-Y also raised money to finance their projects by selling candy.

Mrs. Mabel Pritchett, Tri-Hi-Y sponsor, and Mr. Burns Becht, Hi-Y sponsor, assist their officers and help the members to set better Christian examples for others.

Hi-Y officers include: Bob Conley, Treasurer; Mike Gilbreath, Vice-President; Dave Vaughan, President; Don Hoge, Secretary; Dave Underwood, Sergeant-At-Arms; Wilbur Tague, Historian; Jim Dever, Chaplain.

Revolving around the Thespian Society, the Speech Club was composed of pupils expressing an interest in speech. The Club provided many programs for Classroom Teachers and P.T.A. meetings. Club members were in contests, debates, and extemporaneous speeches, through which poise, self-confidence, and resourcefulness was gained.

The Speech and Thespian Clubs worked together in the year's dramatic productions. One group of officers represented both clubs. They were: Marty Martin, President; Susan Jones, Secretary; Wilbur Tague, Program Chairman; Mike Hollars, Treasurer; and Judy Hughes, Vice-president.

for Therein , All the Honors Lies

Dick Smith, Dave Vaughan, Marcia Carter, and Judy Hughes attended the 1963 assembly along with Mrs. Kisner, speech teacher.

Coming from all over the State and converging on the Purdue campus, high school students annually join in a "mock legislature." Students present bills, have committee meetings, and practice formal parliamentary procedure. In order to attend Purdue Assembly, a student must be in either history or speech classes.

Following the lead of Thespis, the Greek's presumed "Father of Drama," Danville's Thespian Society #2246 has been the nucleus of the Speech Club and its various functions.

Participating in contests, sponsoring the Variety and Vaudeville Shows, and the nonsensical rendition of "Don't Go Ape," and "Curfew Capers" highlighted this year's efforts. Taking an active part in these endeavors helped pupils earn ten points which are required for membership.

Working hard to produce a good yearbook, the staff gained valuable experience while they worked many long hours to finish the book. Behind the scenes were the usual cries of lost dummies, blue pencils, pictures and the many unplanned incidents that seemed to constantly face us.

The ball games, dances and Day by Day activities that mean so much to all DHS pupils, have been captured by the cameras of Mr. Gallo-way and Bill Whittaker.

Three Qualify for Quill and Scroll

Mr. Cox watches Mrs. Vivian Gilham, Adviser of Quill and Scroll, pin an Editor-in-chief pin on Judy Hughes.

Rose Ellen Disney admires her Editor-in-chief pin presented to her by Judy Hughes, President of Quill and Scroll.

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for high school journalists, was formed to encourage and reward individuals achievement in journalism.

In addition to meeting the national qualifications for membership, pupils were required to write and edit a Style Book.

Sponsoring a Publications Banquet in May to honor all staff members of the Pow Wow and Tom Tom is one of the projects of Danville's Chapter of Quill and Scroll.

Susan Jones, Pam Hicks, and Rose Ellen Disney were initiated into Quill and Scroll. Mrs. McElwain and Mr. Cox participated in the ceremony.

Exploring New Worlds in Science

Row One: M. Collins, S. Joseph, E. Hitchcock, P. Davis, D. Eggleston, A. Underhill, C. Piper. Row Two: T. Mowery, M. Barber, M. Hollars, L. Heard, D. Myers, R. Dollens. Row Three: T. Crews, W. Tague, T. Vannice, T. Kraft, D. Hadley, G. Rogers, J. Lynch.

Science Club officers are: Wilbur Tague, President; Leslie Heard, Secretary-Treasurer; and Dave Myers, Vice-President.

Promoting a more intensive interest in science, through experiments, guest speakers and a science fair, is the object of the Science Club.

The club sponsored the annual science fair which was open to the public. Each member displayed a project at the exhibition. Through these projects, parents along with students acquire a more thorough knowledge of science.

Toward New Horizons

The National Organization of the Future Homemakers of America was established in Danville this year with membership open to any girl in high school wishing to become an ACTIVE member. Our major objective is to give individuals an opportunity to improve personal, family, and community living through organized programs within the club.

Each year in June one of the colleges serves as host to the FHA State Convention. Each club is invited to send a representative group with chapter mother and advisor.

In our State Organization, we are a member of the Central District. Various schools host the Fall and Spring District Meetings with the Fall Meeting devoted to officer's training and the Spring Meeting centering on elections of district officer's, display of talents, and checking the Scrap-books for Honor Chapter accomplishments.

FHA has contributed to the extra-curricular life at DHS by sponsoring a Bonfire and a Valentine Dance. For the girls we held initiation, a Pizza Party, and FHA Week activities ending with a Turn-About Dance. To include the parents, FHA sponsored the Daddy-Date Night and the Mother-Daughter Banquet, which climaxed the year with the installation of the 64-65 officers.

Harvey, M. Smeaton, M. Arnold, N. Blum, W. Whittaker, B. Conley, D. Himsel, D. Myers.

Spanish Club Officers are: Skip Barnett, Vice President, Bob Conley, Treasurer, Jean Harvey, President, and Ann Underhill, Secretary.

Scrambling for candy was the climax of the Spanish Club's Christmas party. A pinata, which was broken in order to obtain the goodies, was a part of the annual festivities of the Club. This is a practice of the Latin American countries on the children's Saint's Day.

Members also viewed films on the Spanish-speaking countries in order to better understand their customs. Thus, they are rewarded with a respect and love of these friends.

Future Librarians

Officers of the Library Club were: Ann Miller, Secretary; Yvonne Hanson, Vice-president; Tom Tucker, President; and Marcia Carter, Treasurer.

This year's Library Club has 43 members with Yvonne Hanson as State Pen Chairman of the Hoosier Student Librarians Association.

Requirements for Student Librarians were to maintain a C average and to serve two hours monthly.

The English Department was of great help to the library's "Book Island" during the year.

The Latin Club acquaints students with the everyday use of Latin. The Roman culture and language is deeply imbedded in ours. Latin Club members learn of Roman customs and so understand our own way of life better.

This year the Latin Club's main projects were updating their constitution and the annual Roman Banquet. At this banquet, initiates dressed in togas and were sold as slaves to the old members. After being sold they ran errands and served dinner to their masters.

Whether it's marching on the muddy football field or playing at a concert, the Warrior Band is an important part of the school scene. Playing at all home football and basketball games, the pep band boasts the spirit of the team and fans. The band played at Madison State Hospital and as a final feature, they presented the Senior Concert, honoring all senior band members.

The Dance Band, an extracurricular organization, received a first class rating at the State Contest and accompanied the Robed Choir to Chicago for the annual spring tour.

The Majorettes are: T. Westerfield, C. Clayton, J. Parr, S. Reed, M. Vannice, C. McCreary, J. Griffith.

The eighth grade band prepares students for future success in the field of music.

The Robed Choir officers were Doug Myers, President; Don Ritchey, Vice-president; and Lynne Chapman, Secretary-treasurer.

"All aboard for Chicago," was a familiar sound heard by all robed choir and dance band members on the 1964 spring tour.

The Robed Choir, under the direction of Lynn Jones, participated in many activities during the year. They presented a Thanksgiving program for the student body, a Christmas program for the public and spent many hours preparing for the tour to Chicago in March. Concluding their busy year, the choir sang at the Baccalaureate services.

Staters Learn Indiana Government

HOOSIER GIRLS' STATE was held June 23 through June 30 on the Indiana University Campus. Nine hundred and four girls, living in Teter Quadrangle, spent that week learning about the operations of the government.

DHS delegates and their sponsors were; Marcia Bell, Tri Kappa Associates; Louise Cummins, Tri Kappa; Judy Hughes, Epsilon Sigma Alpha; Susan Joseph, B.P.W. Alternates were: Marcia Carter, Rose Ellen Disney, Pam Hicks, and Sally Sutherlin.

HOOSIER BOYS' STATE was held June 16 through June 23. The nine hundred and four boys who participated stayed in Wright Center on the Indiana University Campus. Representatives are chosen on scholarship, morals and leadership. During this week the boys were taught the basic fundamentals of government.

Attending last year's Boys' State was Ron Harbin, sponsored by The American Legion. Jim Mynatt was chosen alternate.

Lettermen Backed by Booster Club

The Pep Block backed the Warrior's team efforts with yells, chants and hand jives. Additional voices were heard from the newly organized boys' Pep Block. The lettermen composed the bulk of the new group.

Anyone who earns a varsity letter or jacket is eligible for membership in the Lettermen's Club. Every member must set a very high example for his classmates. The club took charge of parking the cars in the parking lot during home games, and sold advertisements for the basketball programs.

Sports

Building character, encouraging good sportsmanship, instilling desire for accomplishment and inspiring a greater effort as well as developing physical fitness are the goals of the athletic program.

As the athletic program is successful in these goals, we hope that we will remember them and live them.

Sparked by nine returning letter winners, the Warrior track squad had a successful season.

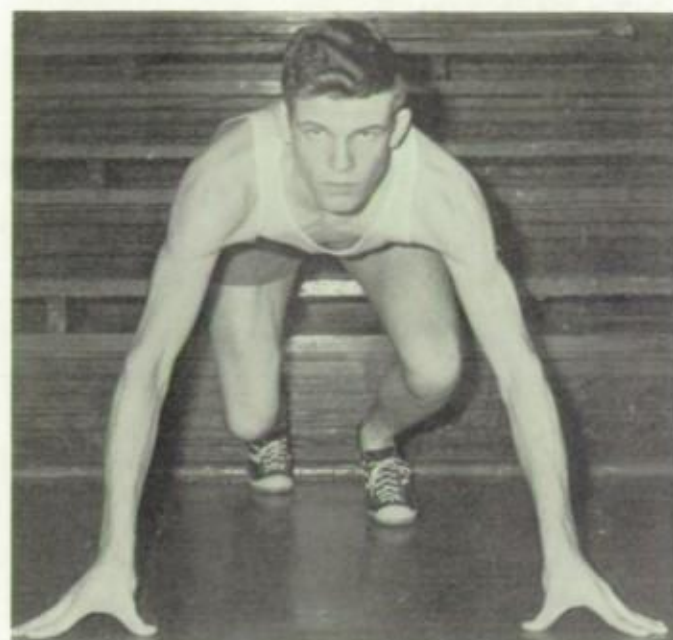

Lettermen and their events for 1963 were: John Higgins, pole vault; Louis Keene, 440 yard dash; Norm Blum, shotput; Bob Conley and Jim Dever, sprints; Gene Wiggam, broad jump and high jump; Ron Harbin, Don Hughes and Dick Wicker, distance events.

Cross country was added as a new sport this year at Danville and the following boys won their letters: Steve Bolton, Ron Harbin, Don Hughes, Louis Keene, and Dick Wicker.

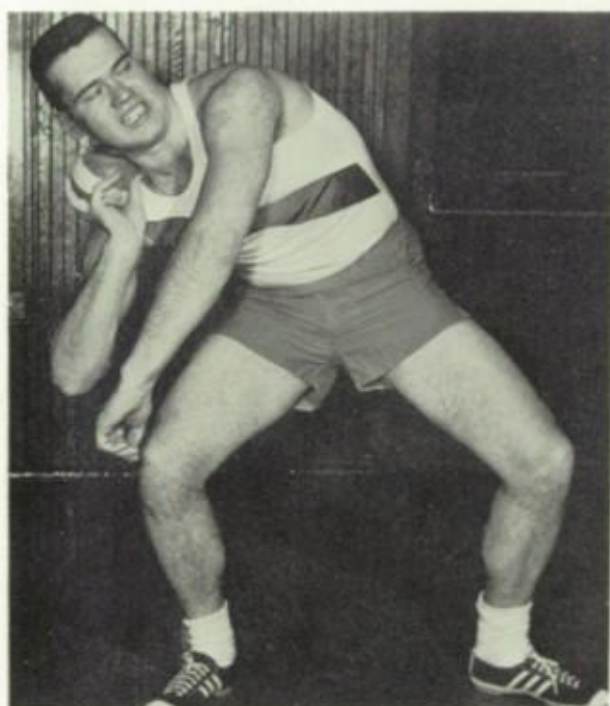

Returning Letter Winners

Hoosier Relays medal winner, Jim Dever, ran the 440 yard dash, sprinted, and ran on a relay team.

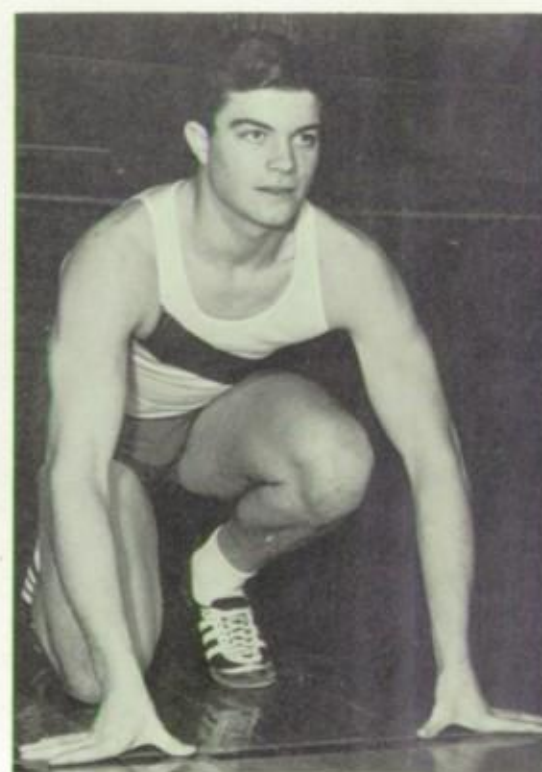

Gene Wiggam, second highest scorer in '63, went higher and farther than opponents in his specialties, the high jump and the broad jump.

Throwing the shot is Norm Blum's specialty. Norm tossed the iron ball six feet further than last season.

Sophomore Dick Whicker (left) and Hoosier Relay medal winner, Ron Harbin, paced the squad in the distance events.

With consistent places in the sprint events, Bob Conley added depth and strength to the Warrior cause.

Personalities

Under the guidance of our teachers and administrators, we have learned to choose friends who are honest, understanding, reliable, and morally stable. By keeping these high standards and ideals, our friendships are built on understanding and consideration of others, as well as respect for individual personalities. We have been influenced by many people during our high school life,

DAY BY DAY . . .

Our Administration

After the consolidation of Danville Center Township and Marion Township, many new students attended Danville High School. The school board was faced with many new problems.

Officers of the school board for the 1963-64 school year were Howard Conley, President; Randall Joseph, Vice-President; Hursel C. Disney, Treasurer; Vincin Helton, Secretary.

Sitting: Howard Conley; Vincin Helton. Standing: Hursel C. Disney; Randall Joseph; William T. McPeck.

Mr. Merrill D. Vaughan was superintendent of Danville Community Schools. The administration, heart of our high school, expresses its influence through the teachers and officers under his direction.

Ruth Jones

June Edwards

Ruth Jones and June Edwards served as secretaries to the Danville Community School Corporation. Mrs. Jones was also corresponding secretary to the school board.

Friendly and Capable Our

Mr. Henry Cox has won the respect, admiration, and affection of the student body of Danville High during the five years as principal of our school. Besides greeting us daily with announcements over the public address system, he taught an advanced algebra class, presided over all academic functions and was responsible for all facets of activities at Danville High School.

Mr. Max Gibbs, our vice principal, has done much to further education in our community. He has proven himself to all of the students as a friend and has always been available to help with their special problems. He taught classes in biology and health.

Mr. John O'Brien guides the students in the choices of courses, colleges and professions, as well as informing and assisting with entrance requirements. He taught Speech I and was Student Council adviser.

To Katy Burrows falls the task of keeping the records, answering the phone, and doing the thousands of small jobs.

Our Senior Year Was Filled with

To the Seniors, these last 12 years of growing up have held many experiences both exciting and confusing. But the most wonderful happenings came during our high school days.

The string of events started with the 1960 Freshman Reception and continued until graduation 1964. The dances, parties, ballgames and friendships we have shared as a class and a part of this school are now behind us. What lies ahead is up to the individual.

To those who remain for more wonderful years at DHS, we wish them the happiness and joy we experienced Day by Day.

School Work,

The Juniors prepared for the "big" year, as they contributed their time to selling refreshments and cleaning up after the home football and basketball games. Their plans were to earn enough money for the annual Junior-Senior Reception, which was the highlight of the year.

Leading the class through their toughest year were the Junior class officers: Brad Clark, vice-president; Gary Rogers, president; Pat Parsons, secretary; and Gene Wiggam, treasurer.

Exploring New Subjects

"Do you prefer red or blue for your class ring setting?" This was the big question that confronted the Sophomore class. Although they remembered those "good old times" as Freshmen, they looked ahead to being respected upperclassmen.

Gaining Confidence

Because this was their first year in high school, the Freshmen were a bit confused, but determined to do their best. To relieve their tension, the Seniors officially welcomed them at the annual Freshman Reception.

Running a class was serious business for Jerry Bair, President; Ted Volpp, Treasurer; Sandy Hamblem, Secretary; and Jill Jenner, Vice-President.

The Eighth Grade Basketball Team was FRONT ROW: D. Moore; G. Hadley; M. Thompson; J. Bryant; G. Redford; T. Clark; A. Wiggam; B. Baker; Manager. SECOND ROW: M. Masariu; B. Herman; J. Dever; R. Alexander; R. Pruitt; B. Goodson; R. Franklin and Coach Harry Bradley. Not Pictured: W. Cupp.

Cheering the Eighth grade team to victory were: Jean Wright, Kathy Martin, Sharon Disney and Shirley Rutledge.

Anxiously preparing for the next four years, the Eighth Grade observed the actions and characteristics of their upper-classmen. They jumped "feet first" into the oncoming year, in which they hoped to land safely in a deeper education.

A Backward Glance

As we cast a backward glance we see how our lives have been influenced by our school. Day by Day our zest for living has led us to laugh and cry, shout and sing. Day by Day our willingness to learn has led us to the brink of new questions in the rooms of DHS. Our love for stimulating activity has led us to scream our voices away and to practice relentlessly for the "big game". So we bid "Good-bye" to one part of our lives and welcome another part as our lives continue to change Day by Day.

In today's modern and changing world, the school and community go hand in hand. Day by day, working together these two bodies are dependent upon each other. The students patronize the local firms and will continue to do so tomorrow. Likewise, without the splendid cooperation of the business establishments of our community, many activities of the school would be impossible.

We, the 1964 Tom Tom staff, would like to take this opportunity to thank the participating merchants, who by purchasing ads, helped in the publication of the 1964 yearbook.

XOXO

Alice,

I would say good luck
for everything in the future, but since everybody else wrote it in here I won't.

It's not that I don't wish you good luck,
you know. (Oh dear,
don't get me wrong.)

Oh well, good luck. I'd better stop now before
I get in any deeper.

Always your friend (I hope
